

COC in Kranj (SLO):

Bastian Kaltenboeck from Austria wins the second competition

06.01.2008/hn

Bastian Kaltenboeck (AUT) won today's COC in Kranj with 263,9 points (111m/107m). Kim Rene Elverum Sorsell from Norway was 2nd (263,8 points 108,5m/110m) and yesterdays winner Antonin Hajek (CZE) was 3rd (262,9 points 105m/113m).

The competition was accompanied by slight rain fall, therefore only about 100 visitors were cheering for all the athletes at the hill.

Bastian Kaltenboeck

"Today both jumps were very good. Yesterday I couldn't find the right form, but today's 1st place was very satisfying. The hill was prepared very good and everything about the organization was excellent."

Kim Rene Elverum Sorsell

"I'm satisfied with the second place. The first jump was OK, but the second one was not so good. I'm in good form and I hope I will do that good in the next competitions."

Antonin Hajek

"I'm very happy with the result. 3rd place is a good achievement. The first jump was excellent, with the second one I can not be totally happy, because I was not very relaxed."

Next COC Competitions will be held in Sapporo (JPN), 11.+12.+13.01.2008.
