Welcome to Bansko

Once you have visited this fantastic resort, you are certain to want to come back, because Bansko offers the best and your pleasure here is guaranteed.

Bansko can be astoundingly diverse and cater for all tastes – from modern age buffs to admirers of the authentic. The town has preserved its ancient cobbled streets and houses, some of which date back to a hundred years. This is where Bansko's unique charm stems from. The houses look like monasteries with their high stonewalls and small shuttered windows. The real Bulgarian spirit is hidden behind fortified walls and heavy gates in spacious rooms with wood-carved ceilings and doors, hand-woven carpets and embroidered cushions, in the murals, icons and the fine iconostasis of the Saint Trinity church.

The unique atmosphere of the town at the foot of the Pirin Mountain is enriched by the characteristic sonority of Bansko male singing, the local sense of humor, the mature red wine and the delicious dishes of traditional Bansko cuisine. The strange feel of the air is one of the most impressive experiences in Bansko – something like smoke or smoldering pine. The magic feeling of something cozy and snug. In the numerous local taverns with the exotic name „Mehana“ you can sit comfortably, smile, feel the warmth of the open fire and enjoy the soft flavor and the delicious taste of the local sausage called „Old man“.

Getting there

By car Bansko lies in the South-Eastern part of Bulgaria, at the tip of the Pirin National Park. Once you arrive at the airport in Sofia or Plovdiv, there are a number of ways to travel to Bansko. Bansko lies two-and-a-half hours' drive from Sofia, although the journey time can lengthen to three or four hours on busier weekends. Quickest route is to take the main E79 south to Simitli, from where a well-marked east-bound turn leads over the Predela Pass to Bansko.

By air Closest airport: Sofia Airport.

By bus There are regular bus lines to major cities in Bulgaria.
